| 1.  | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Uh, well buddy, this fucking guy financed some of the campaign for the current President. | Este, pues compa, este jodido le financió parte de la campaña al presidente que está ahorita. |
| 2.  | CS1:                      | Really?                                                                                   | ¿Sí?                                                                                          |
| 3.  | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Yes, sir. You know? Well, but...Well, but I then...[Laughs]                               | Sí, señor. ¿Entiende? No, pero... No, pero yo pues... [Se ríe].                               |
| 4.  | CS1:                      | That son of a bitch doesn't give a fuck. No fucking way!                                  | A ese hijo de puta no le vale verga. ¡No jodas!                                               |
| 5.  | LEONEL RIVERA:            | [Laughs]                                                                                  | [Se ríe].                                                                                     |
| 6.  | URBINA SOTO:              | How are you?                                                                              | ¿Cómo está?                                                                                   |
| 7.  | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Well, I'm walking around here like...                                                     | No, pues yo camino aquí como...                                                               |
| 8.  | URBINA SOTO:              | Huh?                                                                                      | ¿Ah?                                                                                          |
| 9.  | LEONEL RIVERA:            | ...I'm a colonel with just anyone.                                                        | ...coronel con cualquiera.                                                                    |

| 12. | URBINA SOTO:       | Remember, everyone calls me El Cardenal . [The Cardinal]. And I say: "Son of a bitch. I don't give a fuck! [U/I]." | Acuérdate que me dicen El Cardenal. Y yo digo: "Hijo de puta. ¡Vale verga! [I/I]". |
| 13. | LEONEL RIVERA:     | [Laughs]                                                                                                                  | [Se ríe].                                                                          |
| 14. | URBINA SOTO:       | How've you been?                                                                                                          | ¿Cómo ha estado?                                                                   |
| 15. | LEONEL RIVERA:     | Well, buddy, as good as can be expected, everything is fine.                                                              | No, compa, ahí, en lo que cabe, todo bien.                                         |
| 16. | URBINA SOTO:       | That's good. [U/I].                                                                                                       | Eso está bueno. [I/I].                                                             |
| 17. | LEONEL RIVERA:     | Oh Óscar Álvarez, who is... could it be that he's in love with me?                                                        | Oh, Óscar Álvarez, que es... ¿será que está enamorado de uno?                      |
| 18. | URBINA SOTO:       | So what? But listen to this, buddy, don't pay too much attention to that son of a bitch.                                  | ¿Y qué? Pero fíjese, compa, que a ese hijo de puta no le pare mucha bola.          |
| 19. | LEONEL RIVERA:     | Well, to them...                                                                                                          | No, a ellos...                                                                     |
| 20. | URBINA SOTO:       | They have it...                                                                                                           | Lo tienen...                                                                       |
| 21. | LEONEL RIVERA:     | They have " churros ", right?                                                                                      | Tienen churros, ¿verdad?                                                           |

| 22. | URBINA SOTO:              | Really well cut.                                         | Bien cortadito.                                                |
| 23. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Buddy, did you know...?                                  | Compa, ¿sabía usted...?                                        |
| 24. | URBINA SOTO:              | I'm asking you because I asked Juan, Juan was in....     | Se lo pregunto porque yo le pregunté a Juan. Juan estuvo el... |
| 25. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Yes.                                                     | Ujú.                                                           |
| 26. | URBINA SOTO:              | ...on Wednesday he was in Yoro.                          | ...el miércoles, en Yoro.                                      |
| 27. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | He was there?                                            | ¿Él anduvo?                                                    |
| 28. | URBINA SOTO:              | Yes, he was with me for a while.                         | Sí, él estuvo conmigo un rato.                                 |
| 29. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Right.                                                   | Ujú.                                                           |
| 30. | URBINA SOTO:              | And we talked once again about that situation. You know? | Y platicamos de nuevo el tema. ¿Verdad?                        |
| 31. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Yes.                                                     | Ujú.                                                           |

| 32. | URBINA SOTO:       | So then he said to me: "Well, then, Mayor..." he said to me, as long as the men maintain themselves discreet", he said to me, "there won't be any problems," he said to me.                                                              | Entonces me dijo: "No, pues, Alcalde..." me dice, "mientras los hombres se mantengan discretos", me dice, "no va a haber problema", me dice.                                       |
| 33. | LEONEL RIVERA:     | [U/I].                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | [I/I].                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 34. | URBINA SOTO:       | "There will be a problem when there is no secrecy."                                                                                                                                                                                      | "El problema es cuando no haya discreción".                                                                                                                                        |
| 35. | LEONEL RIVERA:     | Yes, yes.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Sí, sí.                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 36. | URBINA SOTO:       | So then I spoke to him about that situation with Óscar, you know?                                                                                                                                                                        | Entonces, y le dije de ese tema de Óscar, ¿verdad?                                                                                                                                 |
| 37. | LEONEL RIVERA:     | Right.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Ujú.                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 38. | URBINA SOTO:       | I said to him: "Mr. President, let me tell you that the one who can fuck you up, is Óscar," I said that to him. "Óscar is really fucking around too much." And he said: "No..." he says to me, "you know that man has now been cut off." | Le dije: "Presidente, le digo a usted quién lo jode es Óscar", le digo yo. "Óscar está jodiendo demasiado". Y dice: "No...", me dice, "usted sabe que ese hombre está cortado ya". |
| 39. | LEONEL RIVERA:     | Buddy, you see? Buddy, what the fuck, I have...Someone is going to get me a file. He has fucked...from Paico [PH] he stole about 400 million lempiras . [Honduran currency]                                                       | Compa, ¿sí ve? Compadre, qué jodido, yo tengo... a mí me van a conseguir el expediente. Ha fregado... a Paico le robó como unos cuatrocientos millones de lempiras.                |

| 108. | URBINA SOTO:              | Because right after you...I...since you told me about it yesterday...                                                                               | Porque yo, a raíz de lo... como usted me dijo ayer...                                                                                   |
| 109. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Yes.                                                                                                                                                | Ujú.                                                                                                                                    |
| 110. | URBINA SOTO:              | ...I moved those people over here...                                                                                                                | ...pasé esa gente para acá...                                                                                                           |
| 111. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Right.                                                                                                                                              | Ajá.                                                                                                                                    |
| 112. | URBINA SOTO:              | ...so that they wouldn't go to Yoro, they moved...[Laughs] well, buddy, you really had to run around, buddy. Huh?                                   | ...que no se fueran a Yoro [PH], pasan... [Se ríe], no, usted pasa carreras, compa. ¿Ah?                                                |
| 113. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | All these last few days, our buddy has been...he's leaving there...kilos of [U/I].                                                                  | Todos estos días, el compa está... está dejando ahí de... kilos de [I/I].                                                               |
| 114. | URBINA SOTO:              | No, no, no, no. Because I like people who are responsible.                                                                                          | No, no, no, no. Pues a mí me gusta la gente responsable.                                                                                |
| 115. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Don't you want a kilo of coke? [Laughs]                                                                                                             | ¿No quiere un kilito de coca? [Se ríe].                                                                                                 |
| 116. | URBINA SOTO:              | [Laughs] No man, no, but first [U/I]. You hear me?                                                                                                  | [Se ríe]. No, hombre, no, pero primero [I/I]. ¿Oíste?                                                                                   |
| 117. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Alright, buddy, so then you, I don't know, I'm going to leave my guy and then we'll talk about what...about what that fucking guy of yours owes me. | Bueno, compa, entonces usted, no sé, yo lo voy a dejar al muchacho y ahí hablamos de... de lo que me deben aquel jodido de ustedes ahí. |

| 149. | URBINA SOTO:              | And the person with whom I speak quite frequently is with the...the one from [U/I], and that is Colonel Romero, right? Because he's the one from... | Y yo con quien hablo bastante es con el... el de [I/I], que es el coronel Romero, ¿verdad? Que él es de... |
| 150. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Yes.                                                                                                                                                | Ujú.                                                                                                       |
| 151. | URBINA SOTO:              | So then I always give advice to Romero: "Look, Romero, it's not good that the President be fighting."                                               | Entonces yo siempre a Romero lo aconsejo: "Mire, Romero, no bueno que el Presidente esté peleando".        |
| 152. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Yes, yes.                                                                                                                                           | Sí, sí.                                                                                                    |
| 153. | URBINA SOTO:              | And then Romero gives him advice.                                                                                                                   | Entonces Romero lo aconseja.                                                                               |
| 154. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Sure, of course.                                                                                                                                    | Claro, claro.                                                                                              |
| 155. | URBINA SOTO:              | Why? [he asks] Well, because I'm interested in that nothing happens to you, I tell him. [Smiles] Huh?                                               | ¿Por qué? No, a mí me interesa que no le vaya a pasar nada a usted. [Sonríe]. ¿Ah?                         |
| 156. | LEONEL RIVERA:            | Yes, of course. And then we all get caught. They'll grab us [U/I].                                                                                  | Sí, claro. Y nos cojan a todos. Nos agarran [I/I].                                                         |
| 157. |                           | [All laugh]                                                                                                                                         | [Todos se ríen].                                                                                           |
| 158. | URBINA SOTO:              | Buddy, so you stay in touch and let me know, you hear.                                                                                              | Compa, me avisa entonces, oiga.                                                                            |
